A Suggestion That May be Worth Considering. The official vote of Allegheny county Pa, as we find it in the Pittaburgh Commercial is: GRANT, 25,846. GREELEY, 9,055-GRANT's majority 16,791. In October the vote stood HARTRANFT 25,771; TRANFT's, and GREELEY's 7,435 less than BUCKALEW'S. The official vote of Philadelphia, as published in the Record is: GRANT 68,856; GREELET 23,410-GRANT'S GRANT'S vote is 442 less than HAR-TRANFT's and GREELEY's 25.431 less than voting in November. facts throughout Pennsylvania and in Charleston, and at a more accessible other States that held State elections prior | point. to the Presidential election. We presume it is true, as a general proposition, that the very large Republican majorities for work. Let all the counties which are in-President are relative rather than real in terested in the removal put their shouldtheir excess over former Republican majorities. That is, that the Republican vote was not larger, but the opposition vote was less. Our vote was not swelled by the accession of opposition votes, but the majorities were greater because the to an adjourned meeting to be held on the opposition vote fell off.

Republicans in their ardor over their great victory should not neglect to scrutinize the facts. We must not assume that a great part of the Democratic party has stampeded to the Republican ranks, and that our party is now strong enough to do anything it pleases, right or wrong. The material for a powerful opposition party is still there-lying about loose it is true, but more ready than ever to take any form of combination that a serious blunder of the successful party might encourage. It is paradoxical but true that a successful party is never in so much peril as when it is most successful - for then more than at any other time every doubtful, or injudicious, or mercenary scheme is thrust forward under an as sumption that a party so powerfully supported may do anything it pleases, or under the claim that the victory was an endorsement of the scheme.

There is no question that in ordinary times too large a majority in Congress is dangerous, no less to the perpetuity of legislation. JOHN RANDOLPH is credited

The danger to the Republican party now lies in having too absolute a control. It will require the restraining efforts of all prudent Republicans to keep the next cuactment of improper legislation, and the corrective influence of the press to keep the executive from lending it his countenance. About the first whole some fact that ought to receive the con sideration of Republicans is that indicated by the vote of Pittsburgh and Philsdelphia. The reflection that the opposition is not seriously reduced in the mass, and that a few errors on the part of the Republican Congress or Administra tion might fuse the now scattered elements into a compact and powerful party which would sharply contest the Congress elections two years hence and the Presidency two years later, should make the Republicans temper their exultation with caution. The brakes will be needed more than steam for the next two years.

In the general panic among the Demcratic hosts, they can boast of one vic-tory. Washington Territory has elected a Democratic delegate to Congress. His name is McFadden. The World calls this "a crumb of comfort."

Removal of the Capital,

The people of Grafton appear to be very earnest in their agitation of the proposition to remove the State Capital from Charleston. A public meeting was held there on the evening of the 2nd, which was presided over by THOMAS SMOUSE, with G. E. Janvis as Secretary, and addressed by Capt. John W. Mason, Mr. L. S. Johnson, of Pruntytown, and Col. LEE

ROY COPRAN. Capt. Mason simply stated the object of the meeting to be the removal of the State capital to the point which should BOCKALEW 16,490. It thus appears that Grant's vote was 75 greater than Han number, without regard to the wishes or interests of special parties.

Mr. Johnson called attention to the wide spread dissatisfaction which existed throughout the State in regard to the majorit 45,446. In October the vote present location of the Capital. Messrs. C. W. NEWLON, J. W. MASON W. SCOTT GARNER, WM. MALLONEE, L. S. Johnson and A. H. Thayer were appointed a committee to report resolution evening of the 5th.

At the meeting on the 5th, the attendance was large. The following resolutions were reported by the committee and

The Sentinel, from whose report w ompile the foregoing, says:

"Thus stands the movement now. While as much vigor and promptness of action has not been manifested as we could desire, yet carnest minds and brave, honest thinking men, are committed to the movement, and the people will nobly sustain their representatives in this last effort to have their own State Capital located in the superposition of the s cated at some point which is easy of ac-cess and which shall subserve the interest of that wast majority of our citizens whose voice has been stifled so long on this vex atious but important question."

In this connection we present the folowing letter to the Register, written that journal says, by "one of the most prominent and intelligent gentlemen in the State:"

WESTON, November 5, 1872. Gov. STEVENSON says in the last State "Permanent Seat" an open question. The Gov.
